Mission & Vision

Mission

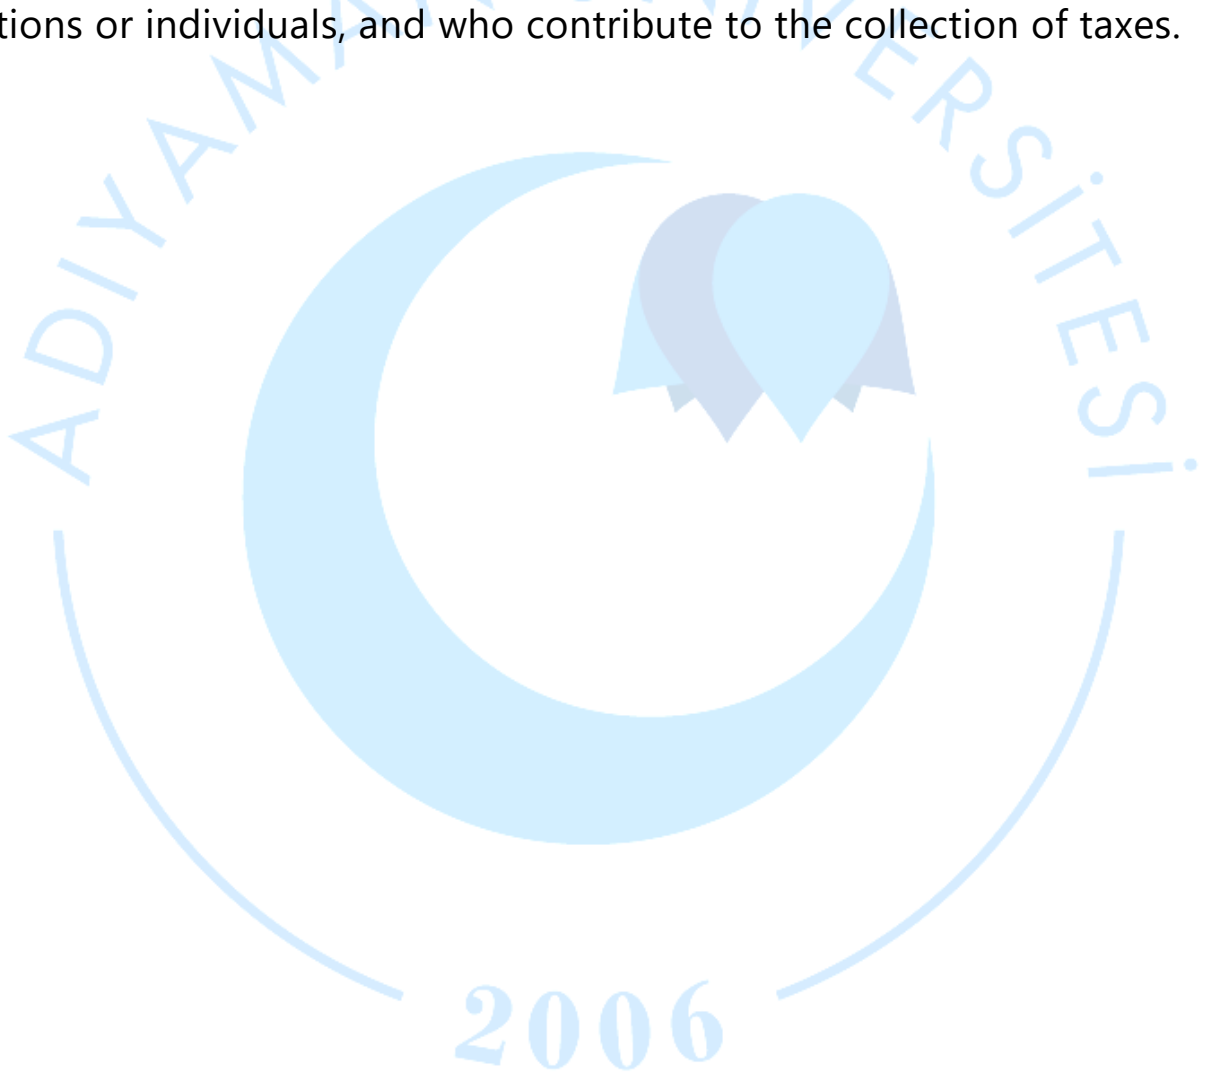

To train professional staff who have entrepreneurial and analytical thinking skills, who will understand the basic concepts of accounting, generally accepted accounting principles and accounting practices, and who will ensure that accounting transactions in businesses are carried out in accordance with international accounting standards.

Vision

To be a program that produces contemporary, innovative graduates with the qualifications and high moral standards demanded by businesses.

Importance of Accounting and Tax Applications Department

Taxes are an important item among the state's income sources. Taxpayers, both real and legal persons, must pay taxes to the state as deemed appropriate by law. The accounting and tax practices department educates accounting professionals who provide information on the laws and rules that must be followed in the preparation of financial statements such as balance sheets and income statements, as well as in the preparation of tax returns of institutions or individuals, and who contribute to the collection of taxes.

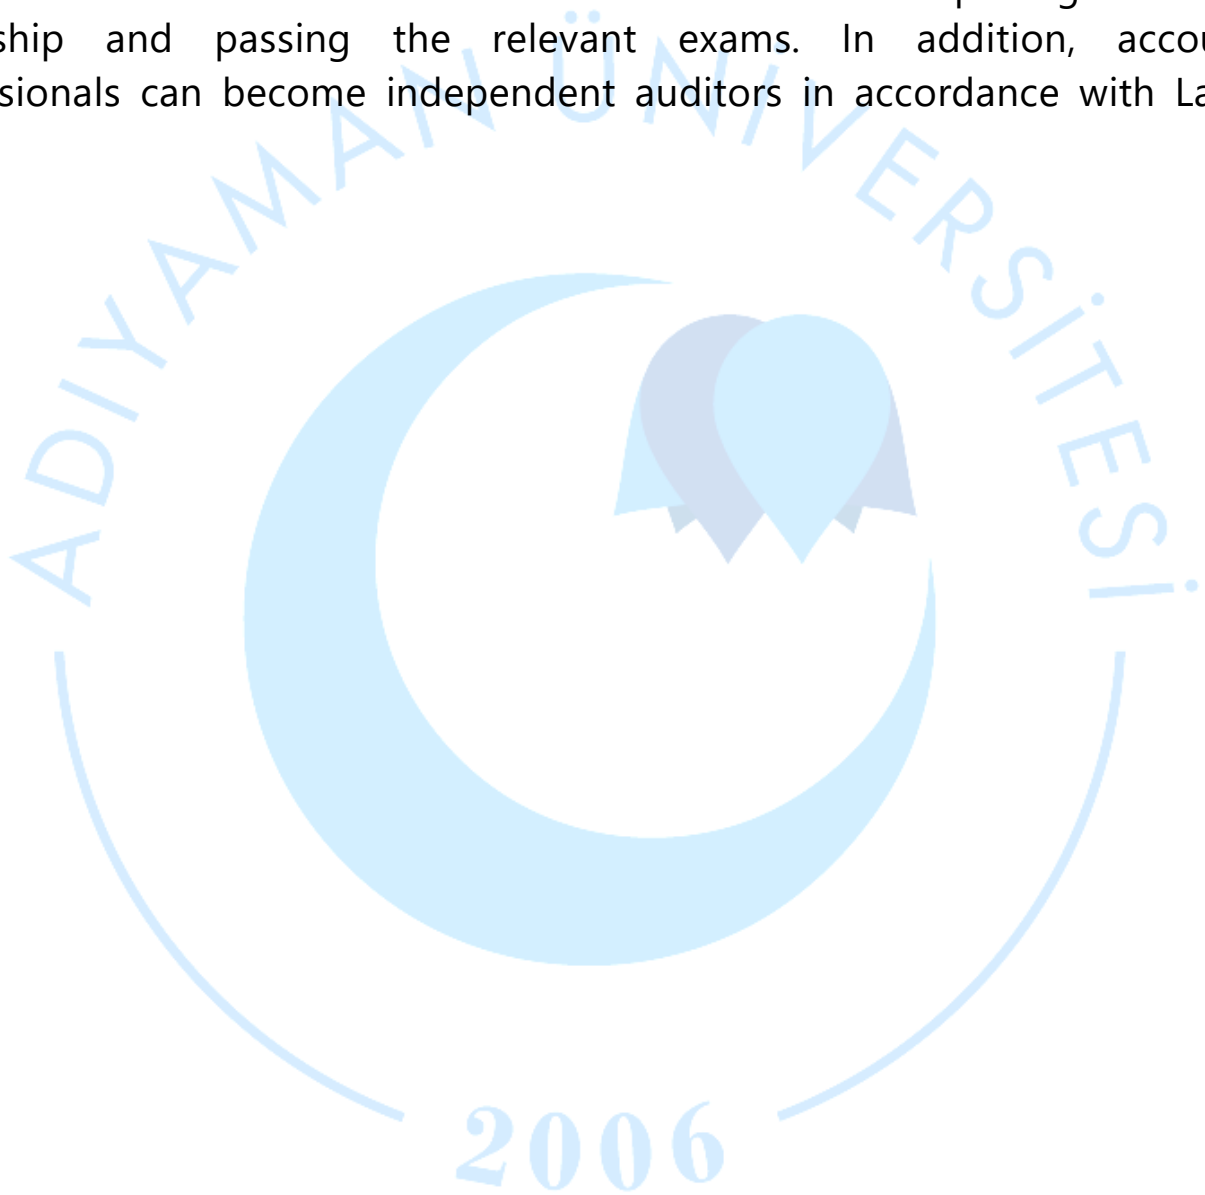

Why Department of Accounting and Tax Practices?

The Department of Accounting and Tax Applications aims to train intermediate staff who are competent in the fields of law, business, economics, foreign trade and finance, as well as the theoretical and practical accounting knowledge needed in the business world, and who can use the accounting and business knowledge they receive in the most efficient.

Students who graduate from the department can usually direct their careers as they wish. The department finds a place in the accounting and finance departments of businesses as well as in institutions that provide accounting and tax services, and continues to be popular among associate degree departments due to the variety of job opportunities.

Job Opportunities for Our Graduates

Our students who complete their education can work as accounting professionals in both public institutions and organizations and private sector businesses. Students who complete their education at the undergraduate level can have the title of Certified Public Accountant after completing a three-year internship and passing the relevant exams. In addition, accounting professionals can become independent auditors in accordance with Law No 3568.
