• Mission & Vision

Mission

To raise individuals with individual and social responsibility awareness who can provide effective security services within the scope of relevant laws in the light of universal values and science.

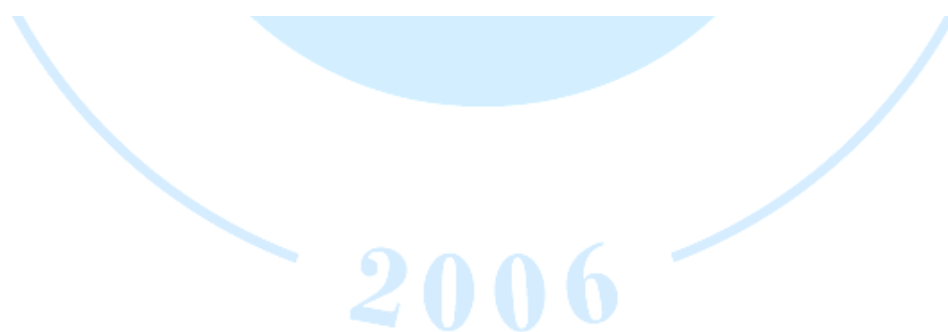

Vision

To be an educational institution that trains modern and self-renewing security personnel who have professional and technical equipment in their field, with high judgment, by closely following the developments in the security sector.

Importance of the Department of Property Protection & Security

The field of activity of private security is diversifying day by day. This diversity, which is realized by necessity, arises from the preventive, protective and planning qualities of private security and the order provided in the functioning of social life. Security has become more palpable today as a basic need for the provision of higher-level needs. Pro-active, protective and preventive services reveal the importance of private security for the continuation, efficiency and order of activities such as economic, social, cultural and health. Concepts such as increasing population, concentration of the population in certain areas, technological developments, immigration, increase in crime diversity, public security reveal the importance of private security.

Why the Department of Property Protection & Security?

The Private Security and Protection program trains the security personnel of the future, which is one of the important needs of today's security services, and who meets the need for intermediate staff with professional theoretical equipment. Within the framework of the needs of the country's economy and security sector, students are taught by the Department of Property Protection and Security through effective academic training, especially in the fields of preventive services, security systems and security measures, protection services, crime prevention methods and approaches, public relations, organizational behaviour and crime science. These behaviours update themselves in direct proportion to the changes and developments taking into account security sensitivities.

Job Opportunities for Graduates

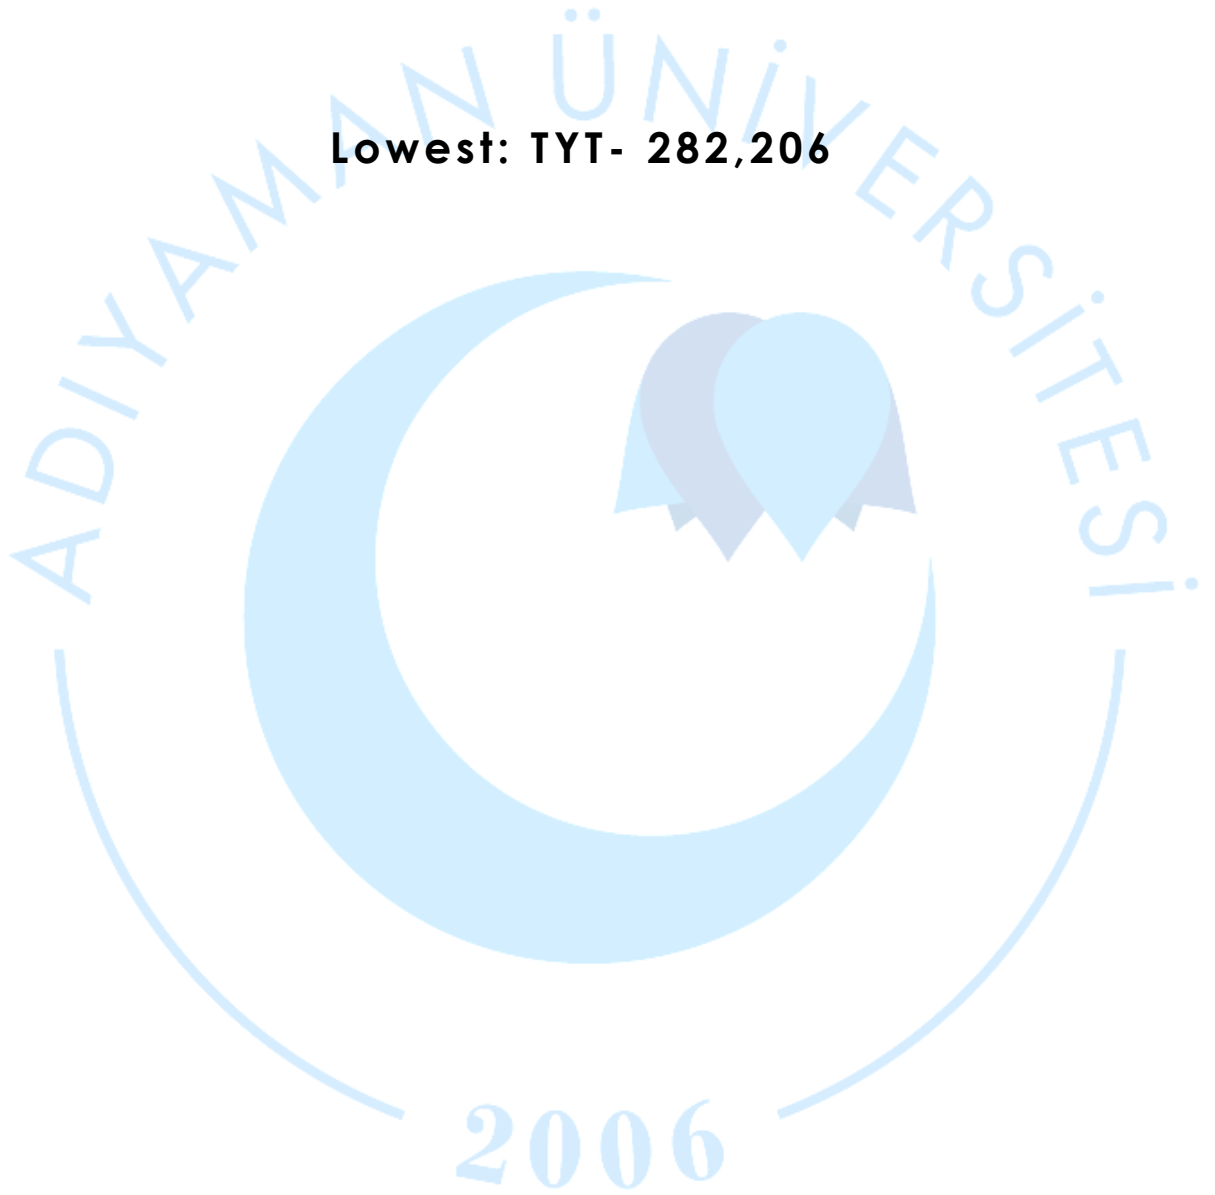

Graduates of the Department of Property Protection and Security work primarily in private security units within public institutions and organizations, in areas such as shopping malls, banks, bus station, train station, transportation systems such as airport, terminal, metro and tram, meetings, concerts, and sports competitions.
